HIGHLIGHTS OF PART

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

NATIONAL DEFENSE, FOREIGN POLICY

Continue supremacy of Strategic Nuclear Forces; strengthen forces to discourage limited wars, to fight subversion; maintain programs on weapons research and development and on speed reduction. Control of use of nuclear weapons must remain solely with President of United States. Continue efforts to halt and reverse arms race. Pledge unflinching devotion to our commitments to freedom from Berlin to South Vietnam. Oppose aggression and use or threat of force against any nation. Encourage by peaceful means growing independence of Communist captive peoples. Move to carry out Resolution of OAS to further isolate Castroism and speed restoration of freedom and responsibility in Cuba. NATO: Strengthen ties, increase cooperation. United Nations: Work to strengthen U.N. and its agencies as instrument for peace, for preventing or resolving international disputes, for building free nations through economic, technical, and cultural development. Oppose admission of Red China. Foreign Aid: Help raise living standards and create conditions for freedom and independence in Asia, Africa, Latin America. Give increased priority to private enterprise and development loans. Expand Peace Corps, Food for Peace Program. Trade: Expand international economic ties; eliminate unjustifiable tariff and nontariff barriers.

FISCAL POLICY, RELATED SOCIAL ISSUES

Continue flexible innovative fiscal, monetary, and debt management policies, recognizing importance of low interest rates. Seek further tax reduction, remove inequities in tax laws; review excise taxes, repeal obsolete laws. Consider development of policies to provide hard-pressed state and local governments with revenue sources to help them meet their responsibilities. Continue frugal government, getting dollar's value for dollar spent. Balanced budget in balanced economy is goal. Education: Demands on inadequate sources of state and local revenues place serious limitation on education; seek remedies by exploring new methods of financing, including channeling of federal revenues to all levels of education and, to extent permitted by Constitution, to all schools, without interfering with local control and direction. Expand programs of public scholarships, guaranteed loans, work-study grants. Develop potential of Armed Forces for training young men. Employment: Give priority to goal of full employment—a job and fair wage to every man and woman willing and able to work. Extend coverage of Fair Labor Standards Act to all workers in industries affecting interstate commerce, increase minimum wage level and extend coverage to lowest paid workers; increase overtime payment requirements; basically revise unemployment insurance program; give legal protection to agricultural and migratory workers. Expand training and retraining manpower programs. Stimulate and protect small business. Vigorously enforce antitrust laws. Repeal Section 14(b) of Taft-Hartley Act to remove inequitable restrictions on right to organize, strike, picket peaceably. Social Security: Adjust benefit levels to insure that contributors to system share in standard-of-living increase; include hospital care for older Americans in Social Security program, insure adequate assistance to elderly suffering from mental illness and retardation. Expand health research, health facilities. War on Poverty: Carry forward as total war against causes of human need. Move forward with programs to restore areas, such as Appalachia, bypassed in nation's progress. Help physically handicapped and mentally disadvantaged develop to full limit of capabilities. Encourage private retirement and welfare programs for older Americans, offering opportunities like those for young provided in Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. Expand housing programs for elderly.

CIVIL RIGHTS, IMMIGRATION

1964 Civil Rights Act deserves and requires full observance by every American and fair, effective enforcement if there is any default. Reaffirm belief that lawless disregard for rights of others is wrong—whether used to deny equal rights or to obtain equal rights. Cannot and will not tolerate lawlessness; seek to eliminate its economic and social causes. Revise immigration laws to permit families to be reunited, welcome persecuted and oppressed, eliminate discriminatory provisions based on national origin.

FARMS, CITIES, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Strengthen farm income structure and reach parity of income in every aspect of agriculture; develop new domestic and foreign agricultural markets; expand Food Stamp, school lunch, and other surplus food programs; speed research into new industrial uses of farm products, study new low-cost methods and techniques of food distribution; support rural telephone program and Rural Electrification Administration. Set housing goal of decent home for every family. Assist broad community and regional development, urban renewal, mass transit, open space, other programs for metropolitan areas; support Department of Urban Affairs. Support District of Columbia home rule and nonvoting delegate in House pending adoption of constitutional amendment to give D.C. voting representation in Congress.

NATURAL RESOURCES

Quicken pace of comprehensive river basin development through multipurpose projects including flood control, irrigation and reclamation, power generation, navigation, municipal water supply, fish and wildlife enhancement, recreation. Continue support of balanced land and forest development; continue attack on air and water pollution; intensify desalinization program; increase efficient use of electrical power through regional inter-ties and high voltage transmission; promote strong domestic minerals, metals, petroleum, and fuels industries; preserve TVA.

EXTREMISM

Expose, wherever it exists, the advocacy of hatred which creates the clear and present danger of violence. Condemn extremism, whether from the Right or Left, including the extreme tactics of such organizations as the Communist Party, the Ku Klux Klan and the John Birch Society.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

FEDERAL SPENDING, TAXES, REGULATION

Reduce present level-of federal spending by not less than $5 billion; end chronic deficit financing; reaffirm belief in balanced budget. Reduce individual and corporate taxes as fiscal discipline is restored; repeal excise taxes on jewelry, cosmetics, handbags, etc.; give tax benefits for college expenses. Eliminate excessive bureaucracy; end power-grabbing regulatory actions such as those by Federal Trade Commission and Food and Drug Administration. Make drastic reductions in paper work and overlapping regulations. Reduce government competition with private business, consistent with recommendations of second Hoover Commission.

STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Encourage state and local governments to streamline and modernize; place maximum reliance on them to meet nation's needs; support constitutional amendment enabling bicameral legislature states to apportion one house on basis other than population; support state-local programs for needs of poor, oppose direct federal handouts; stress private capital in urban development and housing projects.

CIVIL RIGHTS AND OTHER ISSUES

Fully implement and faithfully execute 1964 Civil Rights Act and other civil rights laws; improve statutes to meet changing needs; take administrative or legislative action as required to end denial of right to vote; oppose discrimination based on race, creed, national origin, sex; oppose inverse discrimination (shifting jobs or abandoning neighborhood schools for reasons of race). Social Security: Allow higher earnings by retired workers without loss of benefits. Health: Give tax credits and other aid to needy senior citizens to help meet costs of medical-hospital insurance; fully cover needy elderly persons' medical-hospital costs by general revenues through broader implementation of state-federal plans. Employment: Enlarge job opportunities for rural and urban citizens, emphasizing training programs; offer incentives to employers to hire teen-agers, including temporary exemptions under minimum wage law; support cooperation between government (federal and state) and industry on programs for mentally and physically handicapped, chronically unemployed, poverty-stricken. Labor: Reorganize National Labor Relations Board to assure impartial protection of rights of public, employers, employees. Agriculture: Oppose further federal controls on farmers; make commodity programs for commercial agriculture truly voluntary with price supports free of political manipulations; repeal wheat certificate program; continue support of farm-owned-and-operated cooperatives, including rural electric and telephone facilities. Natural Resources: Support maximum use of public lands; comprehensive water resource planning and development, including projects for growing cities; research in desalinization; multipurpose reclamation projects; sustained-yield forest management; development of atomic power, increased research on and export of coal. Immigration: Support legislation for reuniting families; continue

Fair Share Refugee Program. Prayer: Support constitutional amendment to permit religious exercises in public schools.

FOREIGN POLICY AND SECURITY

Seek victory for freedom. Take cold war offensive on all fronts; reject idea that Communism has abandoned its goal of world domination; work for eventual liberation of Communist-held nations. Strengthen NATO, SEATO, CENTO, and western hemisphere alliances. Regard NATO as keystone of foreign policy. Move decisively to assure victory in South Vietnam. Accept no plan for Germany without assurance of free election on reunification; demand removal of Berlin Wall before resuming negotiations on Germany with Soviet Union; Communist aggressive action will mean reevaluation of trade or diplomatic relations. Press our OAS partners to join us in restoring free independent government in Cuba, stopping Sino-Soviet subversion, forcing withdrawal of foreign military presence in Latin America, preventing future intrusions. Recognize Cuban government in exile. Maintain superior and flexible military capability; develop new weapons systems. Fully implement test-ban treaty safeguards; test in permissible areas; maintain facilities to test elsewhere in case of violations; fully develop ability to detect Communist violations. Return Joint Chiefs to lawful status as President's principal military advisers.

UNITED NATIONS

Support, revitalize. Work to change voting method in General Assembly and Specialized Agencies to reflect population disparities among member states as well as differing abilities and willingness to meet Charter obligations; insist that GA deny votes to members refusing to meet properly levied assessments; urge calling convention to amend U.N. Charter. Oppose admission of Red China.

BALANCE OF PAYMENTS, TRADE, AID

To solve U.S. balance-of-payments difficulties: expand exports; maintain competitiveness of American products in domestic and foreign markets; stimulate foreign tourism in United States; reduce overseas U.S. forces as manpower can be replaced by increased power; strengthen international monetary system without sacrifice of our freedom of policy making. Make determined drive through tough realistic negotiations to remove discriminatory and restrictive trade practices of foreign nations; put greater emphasis on sales of surplus farm commodities to friendly countries through long-term credits repayable in dollars under Food for Peace Program; establish safeguards against injury to U.S. industry by surges of imports such as beef and other meat products, textiles, oil, glass, coal, lumber, steel; require that labels on imported items clearly disclose foreign origin. Trade with Communists only to diminish their power. Recast aid programs to see that all serve cause of freedom and none bolster anti-American regimes. Increase use of private capital in partnership with foreign nationals but assert that U.S. nationals' property must not be expropriated by a foreign government without prompt adequate compensation. Assist young and underdeveloped nations conditional on self-help and progress toward free institutions, without sacrificing trust of old friends.

VOTE NOTES

(The League of Women Voters, a nonpartisan organization, recognizes the contribution that minority parties make to U.S. political life. For practical reasons, presentations in this issue of The National Voter are limited to the two major parties.)

The President and Vice President are elected not by direct vote of the people but by the Electoral College, as provided for in the Constitution.

When you cast your vote in the presidential election on November 3 you will do so by voting for electors on the slate of one or the other party. Each state has as many electors as it has Senators and Representatives in the Congress, but no member of Congress or federal officeholder shall be an elector. The 50 states, with 100 Senators and 435 Representatives, account for 535 members of the Electoral College, but in 1964, for the first time since passage of the 23rd Amendment to the Constitution giving the District of Columbia three electoral votes, members will number 538.

The Electoral College never meets as a body. Electors meet in their state capitals—this year, December 14. By custom, each elector votes for his party's national nominee; the Constitution does not require him to do so, but exceptions have been rare. Certified and sealed lists of the votes are sent to the President of the U.S. Senate and on January 6, in presence of Senate and House in joint session, he opens the certificates and the votes are counted. The Constitution provides that 1) if no candidate for President has a majority the House (one vote to each state) chooses one of the three top candidates, and 2) if no candidate for Vice President has a majority the Senate (one vote to each Senator) chooses from the two top candidates.

This year 35 U.S. Senators are to be elected and, of course, all 435 members of the House of Representatives. Two of the Senate races will be special elections to fill unexpired terms of the late Senators Kefauver (D., Tenn.) and Kerr (D., Okla.).

Regular senatorial elections will be held in Arizona, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Hawaii, Indiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

The incoming 89th Congress, which will convene in early January, will be the first to benefit from legislation passed by the 88th Congress to increase salaries for members of both houses from $22,500 to $30,000 a year.

Choosing the President is the most important business before the American public in the weeks ahead. And Choosing the President is the title of a new 96-page pamphlet published by the League of Women Voters of the United States; 75¢.

DEAR CITIZEN:

The people of the United States of America are about to elect a President, an event of such significance that the people of the whole world are watching—watching you.

With your right to vote goes the responsibility to exercise the right. Decide which of the two presidential candidates you prefer, then vote for him. Your vote makes a difference. If you do not add your vote on the side of the candidate you favor, you are in effect weighting the other side of the scales in favor of his opponent.

Have you done what is required by the election laws of your state to qualify yourself to vote? In 47 states that means "have you registered?" (In Alaska a voter registers at the polls; in a presidential election no form of registration is required in North Dakota, nor in Arkansas.)

As of September 15 there is still time to register in 40 states (all but California, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Texas) and the District of Columbia. But hurry! Final dates of registration vary widely from state to state, even from city to city in some states; be sure of the final date which affects you.

Permanent registration is in effect in some states—maybe in yours. But sometimes there are stipulations within such laws; make certain that you still qualify.

If you are a woman and have married since you last voted, you may need to change your registration.

If you have moved to another state since you last voted, check election laws in both states. Since the 1960 election the following states have liberalized residence requirements enabling those who have recently moved to vote in a presidential election: Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Vermont, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

Even if you have moved within your state you may have to reregister or notify election authorities of change of residence. Check.

Will you be away from home on election day? All states have provisions for some type of absentee voting but provisions vary greatly. Find out what the law is in your state. Your vote makes a difference, and the absentee vote can be a determining factor in an election.

Most voters who have just reached the age of eligibility to vote seldom need reminding that now is the time. But what is the age? Generally it's 21, but in Georgia, Kentucky, and Guam it's 18; in Alaska, 19; in Hawaii, 20.

You can get information about voting requirements from state and local election officials, party headquarters, or the League of Women Voters through its 48 state Leagues and nearly 1200 local Leagues in the 50 states.

Don't overlook the importance of the congressional elections, for the success of a President's program depends in large measure on the makeup of the Congress. Your state may have a senatorial election this year; all states, of course, will elect members to the House of Representatives. How do these candidates stand on the major issues? The League of Women Voters has gathered this information through questionnaires answered by the candidates themselves and it is available, from state and local Leagues, to anyone interested.

We hope you will find this issue of THE NATIONAL VOTER, directed to you, the citizen, not only useful but a constant reminder that

Your Vote Makes a Difference!

Information on Candidates Running at Large for State Representative

The voters of Illinois are faced at this election with a task of unprecedented difficulty. Each voter, to make his vote for the Illinois House of Representatives really count, must weigh the qualifications of 236 candidates and select 177 for whom he wishes to vote. He may, of course, decide to vote for fewer than 177, but if he does so he will be throwing away a part of his right to decide on the structure of the legislature.

The Illinois League of Women Voters, a non-partisan, volunteer, statewide organization for the purpose of promoting informed citizen participation in government, has assembled the material appearing on these pages to help the voter make his selections. The League does not support or oppose candidates or parties.

Candidates will appear on the ballot in the order shown on the ballot list below. The list has been set up to match the spacing on the official ballot, so that the voter can mark his choices on this sheet and take it with him into the polling booth as a guide.

Only an X inside a party circle or candidate's square will be counted. No other mark may be made on the ballot.

The regular session of the Illinois General Assembly in 1963 passed a reapportionment bill, establishing new boundaries for the election of representatives to the legislature. Governor Kerner vetoed the bill, stating that it did not meet the constitutional requirements set forth in the 1954 Reapportionment Amendment to the state constitution. The Illinois Supreme Court upheld his right to veto the bill. Then, as provided by law, a commission of Republicans and Democrats was appointed to reapportion the state. When this commission failed to agree in the time allotted, it became necessary for all 177 state representatives to be elected at large throughout the state. Their names will appear on a separate orange paper ballot.

KEY TO BALLOT LISTING

Candidates are listed in the order in which they appear on the ballot. In some counties the columns in which the parties appear will be reversed.

*Indicates incumbent.

Numbers and biographical material will not appear on the ballot. Numbers are included so that you can refer back to the ballot listing from the answers to the questions.

Candidates who did not reply to the questionnaire are indicated. A few of these sent letters, stating their positions in general, and these are indicated by "Letter received." The letters, and the questionnaires, including amplifying comments from many candidates, are available for inspection at the office of the League of Women Voters of Illinois, 67 E. Madison St., Chicago. A few candidates did not receive questionnaires because they were substitutes for candidates who died or withdrew.

Instructions Which Will Appear on the Ballot

You are entitled to cast one vote for each of 177 different candidates. You may vote for fewer than 177 candidates but, if you do, each of the candidates for whom you vote will receive one vote. You may not cumulate your vote, i.e., give more than one vote to any one candidate.

An X in the party circle of any political party will be counted as one vote for each of the candidates of that party. A voter who marks an X in a party circle may also cast single votes (59) for other candidates listed under the other party provided he does not vote for more than 177 persons.

If you vote for more than 177 candidates, your ballot will not be counted.

BE SURE

— YOU MARK YOUR BALLOT WITH X
WITHIN THE PARTY CIRCLE OR CANDIDATE'S SQUARE
— YOU DO NOT VOTE FOR MORE
THAN 177 CANDIDATES
